Every home has a story. This is ours.

Jasmine Smith is the founder of Box 3807. 3807 is her residence. It's the place where she started over. This once empty space inspired her to intentionally create a well-decorated home that serves as an oasis of happiness and comfort, not just for herself, but for her loved ones as well.

Most importantly, Jasmine's new home fueled her desire to help others discover and support Black and Brown-owned home decor brands in a way that provided easier access to products, strengthened the community, and showcased their contributions to the decor industry.

Whether you love buying new home decor or you enjoy hosting guests in a warm and inviting home, Box 3807 makes it easy to create a home you love. Your home is your sanctuary. You deserve an elevated space that expresses who you truly are. Welcome home.
